

The Aphra Behn Society for Women and the Arts 1660-1830
Presents
The 20th Aphra Behn Society Conference

Letting Flowers Fall: Memory and Meaning in Early Literature

5-7 November 2009
Cumberland University – Lebanon, Tennessee
25 min East of Nashville

Keynote Speaker: Margaret J.M. Ezell, Abbott Chair in English at Texas A&M

Accepted Papers by Graduate Students are eligible for Outstanding Graduate Student Award

All Panelists must be members of The Aphra Behn Society

Papers on any aspect of women's literature and literary experience (including all aspects of gender) from the Early Modern to the Romantic Period will be considered. Complete Panels are encouraged.

Send short Abstracts, including working title, "snail" mail & email addresses by 15 January, 2009 to:

Dr. Michael Rex mrex@cumberland.edu
Assistant Professor of English
Cumberland University
1 Cumberland Square
Lebanon, TN 37087

For more information, Consult our website: <http://www.oldroads.org/behn/home.htm>